Now I know what this is. ULI international, the "Big ULI In The Sky", as it is occasionally referred to with no lack of irony, decided that LA needed help in dealing with it's homeless issues. So they have created this advisory panel, headed by a guy from New Orleans. Can't wait to see how this one turns out!

Thanks for lunch

Dear Ms. Riotto

The Urban Land Institute (ULI) and the University of Southern California's Lusk Center for Real Estate are organizing a ULI Advisory Services Panel <https://americas.uli.org/programs/advisory-services/> to recommend responses to the homelessness crisis in Los Angeles.

The Interview Panel, consisting of national experts in housing, homelessness, and urban design from around the United States, will be meeting in Los Angeles the week of December 10 – 15. We hope you will be available to meet with one or more of them to provide your perspective on the key issues surrounding this important topic. None of the panelists are from Los Angeles or have any business interests with the city or county.

Specifically, we request your availability for up to an hour at a time of your convenience on Tuesday, December 12 at either 9:00 AM or 3:00 PM. The interview will take place at the DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel Los Angeles Downtown <http://doubletree3.hilton.com/en/hotels/california/doubletree-by-hilton-hotel-los-angeles-downtown-LAXDSTD/index.html> , 120 South Los Angeles Street.

This project is sponsored by the ULI Foundation, conducted in partnership with the USC Lusk Center, and is charged with providing objective, independent analysis. As part of its process, the Panel will interview 75 – 100 stakeholders from the public, private, and nonprofit sectors who collectively reflect the full spectrum of perspectives on addressing homelessness in Los Angeles.

Your interview will be entirely off the record: none of your comments will be attributed to you in any of the final report materials.

Please respond at your earliest convenience regarding your availability on December 12.

We look forward to hearing from you, and thank you in advance for your consideration of this request.

Sincerely,

Re: Interview re: Homelessness Crisis in Los Angeles

Tom Eitler, Senior Vice President for Advisory Services, Urban Land Institute

Richard K. Green, Director, USC Lusk Center for Real Estate
